There has been a recent update to the provisions of Trademark Law in Jordan in 1999, lead to the rise of the Jordanian TM Law no. 34 to the year 1999 which had been issued on the official gazette issue no. 4389 of 01.01.1999.

Pursuant to the referred law, the Trademark in Jordan is registerable for 10 years renewable for further 10-year periods with the ability to lately renew the same within a grace period of 1 year after its expiry; otherwise, the TM shall be cancelled from the TM Registry.

The 9th edition of the International Nice Classification of Goods and Services for the Registration of Marks is the adopted classification in Jordan.

Stating international class heading in addition to the goods/services of the applicant's interest will provide a broadest protection.

Filing Procedures:

A filed trademark application is subject for examination on the registrability and prior rights bases. Once an application is accepted, it will be published in the official gazette for opposition purposes. Opposition period of 90 days will be permitted to file an opposition by any third party. If no opposition is reported, the final registration fees will become due for payment. The certificate of registration will be due for issuance upon settlement of the registration fees.

As per the Jordanian Trademark Law, the mark should be used within 3 years from the registration date. However, use of a trademark is not compulsory for keeping the registration in force. But non-use of the registration will expose it for cancellation. As per the law, any interested party may apply for cancellation of a trademark registration, in case of failure to use the trademark by the owner in Jordan for three consecutive years from the date of registration.

A registered trademark can be assigned/pledged/licensed. The recordal applications should be published in the Trademark official gazette to be effective against third parties.

Amendment of the applicant's name, address and/or list of goods/services can be filed. Publication of the amendment is required as stated in the law and bylaws.
